Media Release

Clare Valley Aerodrome Entrance

A right hand turning lane at the Clare Aerodrome will be constructed very shortly and should be completed by the end of February 2015.

This right hand turn lane has been on the agenda for the last couple few years and at last the project will be commenced by the DPTI as part of Geoff's agreement with the Premier.

Geoff has long lobbied the Government to address this issue and these works will not only benefit local residents but also tourists who frequently use this route.

The project incorporates widening 150 metre strip at the entrance to the Clare Valley Aerodrome and will greatly improve the safety for road users in the area.

Workers are expected to be on the site for 7 days a week from 7am to 5pm and speed restrictions will be in place.

Geoff urges all drivers utilising this road to take care during this construction period and looks forward to its completion.
